

The Wisconsin 2023-25 Biennial Budget

Implications for Higher Education

4 pm, Tuesday, May 2

Wisconsin Idea Room, Education Building

Like two years ago, Republican legislative leaders have decided to disregard the budget plan introduced by Democratic Governor Tony Evers and instead work off the current base budget to craft a plan of their own. Evers' proposal included several items favorable to UW-Madison, like paid family leave and funding for pay raises and infrastructure. What will a GOP budget look like? Our panelists will offer insight and predictions:

Panelists

- State Rep. Shelia Stubbs (D-Madison), member Colleges & Universities Committee
- State Rep. Robert Wittke (R-Racine), member Colleges & Universities Committee
- Crystal Potts, Director of State Relations, UW-Madison
- UW-Madison Professor J. Michael Collins (School of Human Ecology & La Follette School of Public Affairs)

PROFS Legislative Representative Jack O'Meara will moderate.
